

CONSOLES

STRUCTURE

The consoles are normally manufactured from RHS-beams which are fastened at the end straps with screw couplings to the machine or to the bearing structures of the plant. We also deliver other models of consoles according to various standards of countries or customers.

